Reproduction Policy
• Reproductions are made available for research, teaching and private study.
• Reproductions are made available for one-time use for the purpose stated in this agreement.
• Each researcher must assume full responsibility for any legal questions that may arise as a result of use of the reproductions.
• Reproductions may not be further copied or made available to another researcher without prior permission.
• Reproductions will not be made if materials might be damaged by the reproduction process or if reproduction has been restricted by donor agreement.
• Permission to publish or use reproductions for any commercial purpose must be obtained in writing.

Notice: Warning Concerning Copyright Restrictions
The copyright law of the United States (Title 17, United States Code) governs the making of photocopies or other reproductions of copyrighted material. Under certain conditions specified in the law, libraries and archives are authorized to furnish a photocopy or other reproduction. One of these specified conditions is that the photocopy or reproduction is not to be “used for any purpose other than private study, scholarship, or research.” If a user makes a request for, or later uses, a photocopy or reproduction for purposes in excess of “fair use,” that user may be liable for copyright infringement. This institution reserves the right to refuse to accept a copying order if, in its judgment, fulfillment of the order would involve violation of copyright law.

I have read and agree to the reproduction use policy. I indemnify and hold harmless the University of Connecticut and its officers, employees, and agents from and against all claims and actions arising out of my use of the reproductions.
